BRAINSTORMS

WITH FERRIN COX

CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR
Having lost our first choice for Governor, we have spent most of the past two weeks listening to different ideas of why our candidate lost. Now, however, it is time to make another selection, and it wasn't until Monday night that I decided to make Bob James my candidate. Forty-two percent of the people of Coffee County favored James in the first primary, and Baxley was their second choice. I decided to go with James for sure when the constant criticism of opponents by Baxley got to me, and I realized he was saying little else. We dream for a state government that will be run in a business-like manner, with peace and tranquility, and not arm-twisting and "getting up and stomping on heads." We are concerned that Baxley can't handle the finances of the state when it takes loans from at least eighteen banks and a savings and loan association to finance his personal life. James is very inexperienced in government but throughout his life, he has shown an ability to quickly grasp a situation and do well with it. We want James to answer questions from the news media, but he is not concerned that he refuses to debate Baxley. We are not trying to elect the best debater, but the man to best run the largest business in the State of Alabama.

STAYING WITH McMillan

We voted for George McMillan in the first primary and plan to stay with him in the runoff. This is a race in which we can't lose! Both the candidates are well-qualified, and Bank was our second choice all along, and if we had a chance to vote for two, he definitely would get the other vote. Bank has assured all of us he would never seek the office of Governor. Surely this was because he detected a strong voter resentment of the Jere Beasley years in the office. While McMillan has declined to put the "never" pledge on paper, he has assured this writer repeatedly that he is dedicated to making the legislative process work, will work for the governor's program, and that four years from now he wouldn't be a candidate for Governor, and that when he is running for re-election, he will be able to remind us of his promise and prove from his record that he is now telling the truth. Again we say—both candidates are well-qualified, and we like them both personally, but we again endorse McMillan.

JOE FINE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

We feel Joe Fine has been hurt badly by his handling of the charges concerning the coal contract money, and personally marked him off in the first voting. However, now that the choice is either him or Graddick, we quickly endorse Fine. He is very qualified, people who work around him say his word is his bond, and he admits he handled the ethics charges poorly—in other words, he is big enough to admit a mistake publicly. Graddick has capitalized on the emotions of the public upset with rising crime rates and has been fairly successful with covering the true activities of his office as Mobile County Attorney General.

SEIGELMAN FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

We again endorse Don Siegelman for the office of Secretary of State. We thought for several days after the first voting, he was in without a runoff, but by a very few votes he failed to get a clear majority. This young man has a good grasp of the machinery of state government, having served as an officer of the Democratic party. Siegelman will work for us and work within the system to improve the system.

GUNTER FOR STATE TREASURER

Once again we commend Anne Laurie Gunter for doing a fine job after being appointed to the office by Governor Wallace. It is never easy to step into the shoes of another, and she has managed to do just that. A very close friend has told us some things about her in this office that are very upsetting. While we tried to find out more, we were unsuccessful, and therefore must go against some of our friends, while agreeing with some others. Here is another case of us liking both candidates. If anyone feels uneasy about voting for a Wallace appointee, Mrs. McDaniel is well-qualified and has an open ear for her friends and former neighbors from South Alabama. In fact, we personally like her efforts on the Public Service Commission and hope she stays there.

MATTHEWS FOR PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION
We were surprised to see Pate Matthews have any trouble winning the race the first time around. He was the only candidate with any name recognition, yet a twenty-five-year-old law student from Montgomery, a former school teacher, and reportedly supported by AEA, got in the runoff. The AEA and the closeness of his name to that of Attorney General candidate Charles Graddick apparently accounted for his vote total. We support Matthews, both for his personal abilities and out of fear Gaddy will be another Jim Zeigler.

FLOWERS FOR SENATE, PLACE 1

Again Walter Flowers is our candidate for the Senate seat being vacated by John Sparkman. Both candidates are about even in vote projections according to the polls. However, a growing number of Coffee County folks are indicating they will vote for Republican Jim Martin in November, regardless of the Democratic winner. Our support of Flowers over Hefflin is based on the fact Flowers already knows his way around Washington, and with two new Senators, we need some fast experience.

STEWART FOR U.S. SENATE

Donald Stewart was and is a good State Senator. He cast his ballot for the things us conservative voters can endorse, and he is amazed that Mrs. Allen is calling him a liberal when her true nature is very liberal (if anything). The sympathy extended her after the death of Jim Allen is fine, but here we are selecting one of our two representatives to the U. S. Senate, and any action she takes must first be cleared by her staff. Some of that when he is running for re-election, he will be able to remind us of his promise and prove from his record that he is now telling the truth. Again we say—both candidates are well-qualified, and we like them both personally, but we again endorse McMillan.

DELEGATES TO DEMOCRATIC CONFERENCE

Those interested in helping select delegates to the National Party Conference know that one woman and one man will be selected from this district. We suggest you vote for Don Moore and Cecil Wyatt. Don Moore is highly qualified and has long been dedicated to the Democratic Party, and presently serves on the Montgomery County committee. Her opponent has never lived in Alabama, and got her name recognition through an expensive campaign to unseat Bill Dickinson two years ago. She gives a return address in Alabama, but all her mail is postmarked Washington, D.C. Cecil Wyatt is a native of Coffee County, having been raised on a farm in the Fairview community. He now resides in Ramer and is a member of the Alabama Legislature. Wyatt is dedicated to his party, and won re-election to the Legislature over two opponents with a runoff. His opponent is about 32 years old and works for AEA publicity department and his name, "Gatts," also was close to that of the jail door slammer to the casual observer.

TAX COLLECTOR

Ronnie Burns led the ticket for Tax Collector, followed closely by Mildred Head. Neither of these men will say a bad word about the other, and both deserve a special salute for this attitude.

Are you thinking about selling timber? The price is good now, and, of course, that is usually a good time to sell. How should you go about arranging a sale?

Larkin Wade, Extension forester at Auburn, points out that a survey of forest landowners shows that most people when selling timber were first contacted by a buyer. The buyer offered a price, they agreed, and the sale was made. In most cases, there was no contract at all. The timber owner had no idea of the volume he was selling. Most of the time the seller thought he had made a bad decision and suffered a financial loss. Maybe he did and maybe he didn't. The important point is that he thought that he was losing, and there ought to be a better way to sell timber.

What is the most important thing in timber selling? The most important thing is to know what you are selling. You need to know the volume you have and the size of your timber. This is where the difficult part comes in. How can you tell how much you have? The best way is to contact a consulting forester. He will, for a fee, estimate your timber volume and, if necessary, mark the timber that you need to cut. He will also handle your timber sale.

If you are just selling a small amount of timber, a good way is to invite a number of buyers to make you as possible. Get as many bids as possible. If you need help in making a decision on how to handle your timber sale, call me at 894-5596 for more information. Or you may want to call Wayne Roberts, the county forest ranger, who can contact the district forestry personnel to help you help.

EQUIPMENT

If you are producing beef cattle, what kind of equipment do you have for handling cattle? One of the most frustrating jobs on a cattle farm is trying to manage cattle without the proper equipment. It can be dangerous.

A good loading chute is a must for any Coffee County cattleman. Where you put the loading chute in the holding pen determines how useful it is. For example, it is best to place the loading chute at the end of the cattle working chute so that cows can be driven in single file. Arrange your loading chute so that you can use it for both small and large trucks and trailers. Of course, an adjustable chute is best for this.

If you would like to get plans on the loading chute and other cattle working facilities, contact County Agent Don Presley at the Extension Office in New Brockton.

YOUNG FARMERS

Max Bozeman, Jr., who lives between Dunley Cross Roads and Level Plains in Coffee County, is a hard-working young farmer. Max is heavy in the row crops business and is getting in the livestock business. A young man of Bozeman's working and planning ability is bound to succeed.

The fact that we have several farmers who are getting started in agriculture is a good sign. A lot of people in agriculture believe that there are excellent opportunities for young people in agriculture. We would be happy to discuss these opportunities with young people who are interested in farming.

WHY WAIT?

Farmers have been sold testing in Coffee County now for almost 25 years. You would think after 25 years that just about everyone would agree that early fall soil testing has advantages. But, unfortunately, many people await until January, or February to collect their samples and send them in. At this time of the year the lab is crowded. It is rainy, and the business firms cannot spread the time and delays occur making it less profitable for everyone concerned.

Soil that needs time should be timed as soon as practical. Every time properly mixed with the soil will help insure a better crop the following year. Let's make a drastic change in 1978! Resolve to get your soil samples in September and early October.

LAWNS

Coffee County homeowners have beautiful lawns from Ricketts to Klinton and from Pine Level to Enterprise. Well cared for lawns add several thousand dollars value to property. Some of the most attractive places I know of are attractive because of the care and placement of ornaments plus lawn grasses.

How can you have a better lawn at about the same cost? Start with soil fertility. Be sure not to under-fertilize or under-fertilize. How do you do this? Simply take a soil sample and have it analyzed at the laboratory in Auburn. The recommendations they send you will be for three years. There is a $2 charge for analyzing the soil, but that is less than 70¢ a year.

I urge homeowners throughout the county to get the soil samples supplied from their agri-business dealer or our office and send those samples in. And you can do it in 10 minutes.

Fighting and winning:

There are special qualities of mind and spirit that enable certain leaders to stand out and make history. In national and state government, they are the few who know how to be tough, persuasive, and statesmanlike — all at the same time.

Alabama has been twice-blessed. U.S. Senator James Allen was such a leader. State Senator Donald Stewart is another.

Donald Stewart has fought the tough battles — going toe-to-toe with the big utilities, going to the mat with the big finance companies, taking on a wasteful bureaucracy. What makes Donald Stewart different is not just that he's fought the special interests; it's that he's beaten them — time and time again.

Now he wants to carry on the Alabama tradition of outstanding leadership by taking the commitment that made him win at the state level to the United States Senate.

New Brockton

Blanks Houston

Academy 6-0

The New Brockton Gamecocks celebrated their home opener in fine style last week by shutting out the Houston Academy Raiders 6-0, in New Brockton.

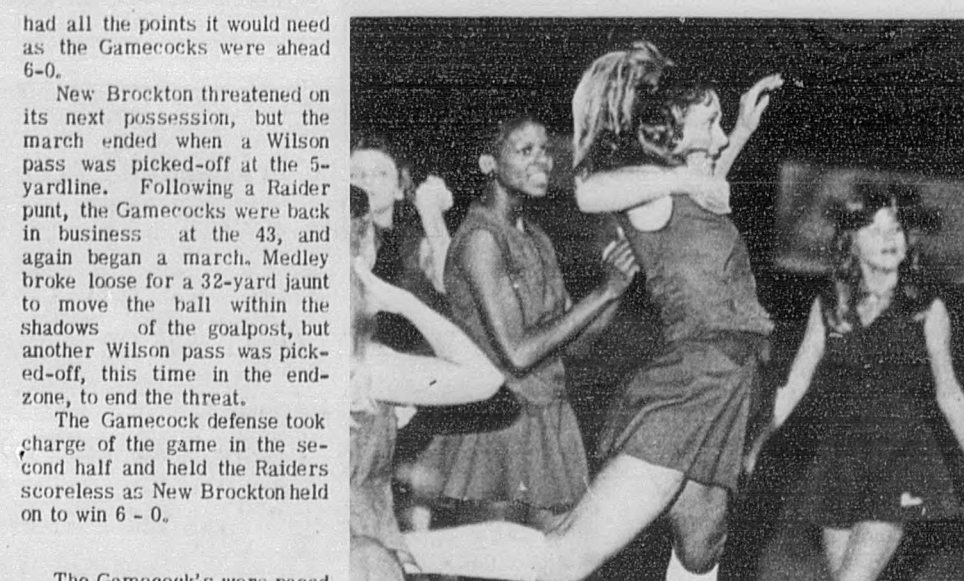

The Gamecocks now own a 2-1 record, while the Raiders are winless at 0-4. The game, which was scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m., was delayed for over 90 minutes by a mix-up with the referees, who had mistakenly thought the game was to be played on Friday night, instead of Thursday. The contest finally got underway at 9:05 p.m. when New Brockton kicked-off to the Raiders.

Houston Academy failed to move against the rugged Gamecock defense and was forced to punt. The Gamecocks fumbled on their first play and an alert Raider recovered at the Brockton 26-yardline. The Gamecock defense refused to yield and turned the ball over to the offense on the 18-yardline. The New Brockton offense managed two first downs on its next possession, but two fumbles lost a total of 7-yards to stop the march.

Houston Academy held the ball for only two plays before an errant pitch-out was recovered by a Gamecock defender at the 30-yardline. Terry Medley blasted the middle on three straight plays for gains of 4, 2 and 5 yards and four plays later quarterback Larry Wilson passed to Neal Tindol for a touchdown. The extra-point failed, but New Brockton

New Brockton's Freddie Kiser (78) scoops up a Houston Academy fumble to set-up the Gamecocks' only score in their 6-0 victory.

There was plenty to cheer about in New Brockton last Thursday night as the Gamecocks defeated Houston Academy 6-0.

Zion Chapel Explodes To Bury Clio 45-14

The Zion Chapel Rebels exploded for 31-points in the second half to bury the Clio Yellowjackets and claimed a lopsided 45-14 win in the crucial Area 5 matchup. The Rebels now own a 2-1 overall record, 1-1 in area play, while Clio slips to 0-4.

Zion Chapel received the opening kick, but kept it for only two plays before Clio's Chris Wilkerson picked-off an errant Rebel pass and returned it 46-yards for a touchdown. The p.a.t. failed, but Clio was ahead 6-0 with only 1-minute gone in the game.

The Rebels took the ensuing kick and drove in for a score to grab the lead. Corky Ward scored the touchdown on a 7-yard scamper and Boyd Deal booted the extra-point to put Z.C. on top 7-6. Ward's tally came after a dazzling 32-yard run by halfback Keith Costner.

Clio regained the lead early in the second stanza when quarterback James Knight eluded a heavy Rebel rush and lofted a 58-yard touchdown pass to Rodie Gambill. Knight ran for the two-point conversion to give the Jackets a 14-7 advantage.

Zion Chapel recovered a Clio fumble late in the half and struck quickly as Ray Marler connected with Byron Foley for a 50-yard touchdown pass. Deal added the extra-point and at the halftime break the score was knotted at 14-14. Neither team could manage another score until the Rebels

Brantley Rips Red Level 35-14

By: Willie Smith

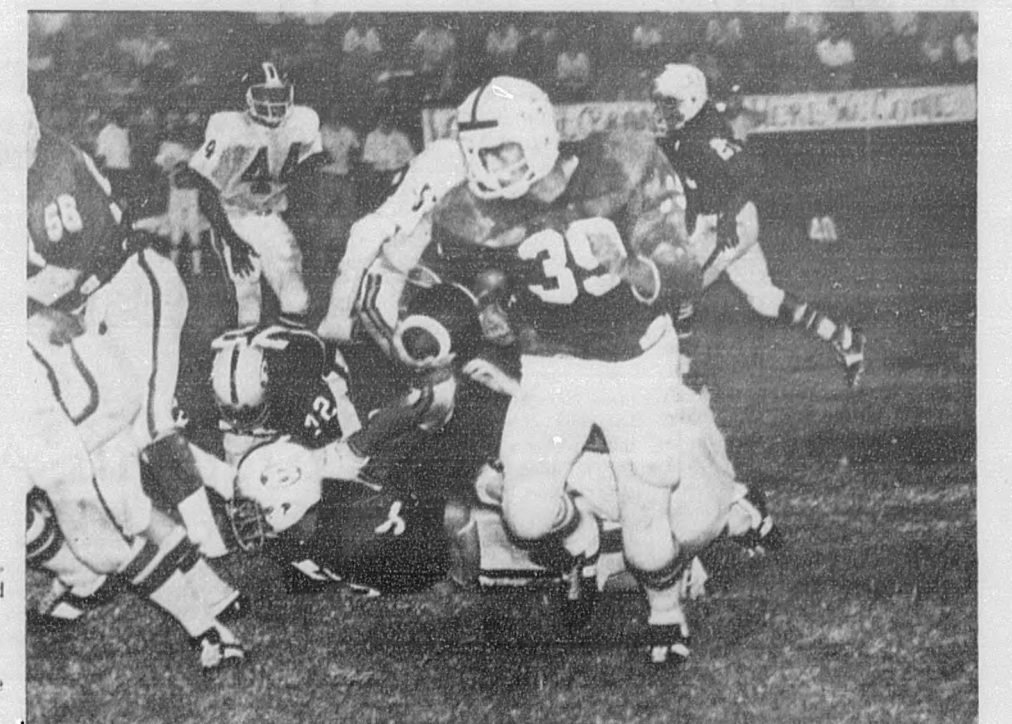

The Brantley Bulldogs received a brief scare Friday night in Red Level against the Red Level Tigers before rebounding to capture their fourth victory of the 1978 season 35-14.

Red Level had gained a 14 second quarter lead on two quick scoring plays early in the ball game on a 63 yard pass from Crum Folsom to Wayne Jeter and a 34 yard run by running back Willie Brantley. From this point Brantley tightened their belts and proceeded to roll over the home town Tigers with a ball hawking defense that had the Brantley crowd cheering with delight. Tim Hall intercepted a Red Level pass and QB Stan Haws threw two touchdowns passes of eight and nine yards to receivers Jim Oros and Richard Dorsey to erase Red Level's lead and give the "Dogs" a 19-14 halftime lead.

The second half saw Brantley in complete control as they intercepted four second half passes from Red Level QB Folsom and placed two touchdowns on the boards on a one yard run from FB Tony Pynes and a 32 yard pass play from Haws to David Wood. Billy Christian and Terry Singleton had two interceptions each to snuff each Red Level attempt in the second half with defensive end Josh Folmar making five sacks behind the line to leave the Red Level offense in complete confusion.

Brantley's offense leaders were QB Stan Haws, FB Tony Pynes, and TB David Woods. Haws passed for 70 yards on eight completions in 14 attempts with Pynes rushing for 81 yards and Woods adding 73 yards.

Defensive standouts for Brantley beside Christian and Singleton included Allen Frasier with nine tackles, Johnny Walker and Shannon Fuller with four each.

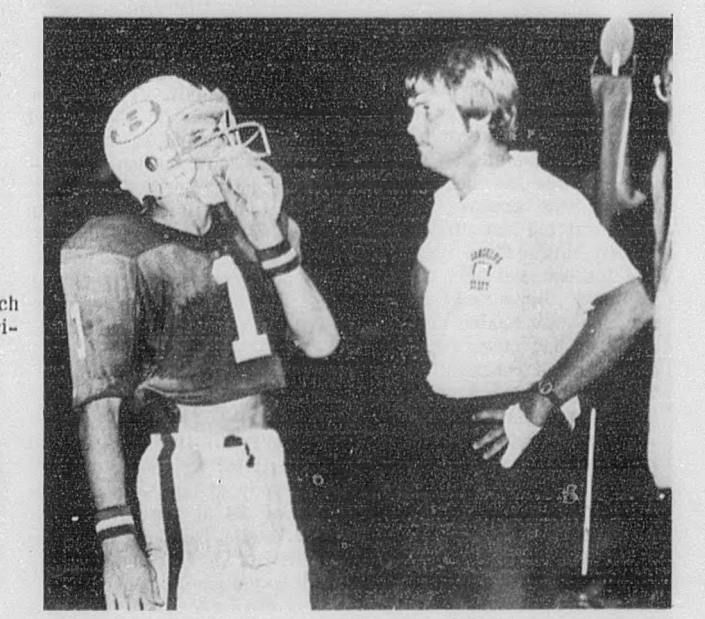

Brantley's Tony Pynes (30) looks upfield enroute to a 10-yard gain in the Bulldogs' 35-14 win over Red Level.

OVERCOMING

To depend on God does not mean the loss of individual initiative or effort. The strength that God gives by His grace is the extra that is needed when all human effort has been expended. Most of the time, God has placed at the disposal of the individual or group the resources that can be used to meet needs, make decisions and overcome difficulties. There is a real grace in accepting these God-given resources and putting them to proper use. Much of sin revolves around the abuse of resources instead of their rightful development, employment and enjoyment.

Perhaps the story of the woman with the issue of blood who slowly and painfully fought her way to Jesus is a good illustration of human grit. This woman had suffered much at the hands of many people, but the inner drive of hope and faith kept her looking for a cure for her disease. Hearing of Jesus, she made a decision to seek him and to implore his help. Her goal must have seemed impossible in the midst of that multitude of people, but she did not give up. Rather, she pressed forward until, with the last surge of her rapidly diminishing strength, she touched the hem of his garment. Jesus saw her faith, and she was healed—but not until she had given the best of her effort in reaching Jesus. This dear woman knew what it was to overcome obstacles and reach a desired goal. May her tribute increase.

Overcoming does not imply that man has at his disposal all the answers, or that he does not need God's help. However, it does imply that many prayers are uttered without commitment of every available ounce of personal strength and devotion. It also implies that many times people are willing to turn over to God the performance of tasks which were intended to be done by the faithful. The early disciples prayed for divine strength, but they went out to die in the arena and fight the lions and face the gladiators. They believed that God would be with them, but they did not think this freed them of the responsibility of facing the difficult situations and living in the trying circumstances. Overcome they did. Their enemies thought they killed them, but they could not kill their indomitable will and their lasting influence, but they were overcomers.

What a privilege it is to stand by as a saint of God bravely faces overwhelming odds and fights the good fight. To see that person battle against tremendous odds and invest all his personality in a losing battle is to see human grit raised to its highest level. God's call is for men and women and young people who are willing to make such an investment of their lives in the cause of Christ. Human grit coupled with divine grace is an unbeatable combination for good in a world that sees and knows too much about evil. The person who complains of his lot and sees only the darkness is not likely to know the job of overcoming in the Lord. That lonely little woman pressing toward Jesus in that crowd of humanity is a beacon for others to follow. Do not give up, brother, you too can overcome! Jesus is waiting to receive you, too.

Fob James Wins Governor's Race

Opelika businessman Fob James has won the Democratic nomination for governor and according to experts will have little trouble winning the November election against Republican Gov. Hunt. James defeated Attorney General Baxley Tuesday in the runoff after leading the ticket on September 5. Returns were tabulated earlier in the runoff than in the first primary and Baxley conceded at 6:30 Tuesday night, while James was more reserved and waited until after tea to acknowledge he had won the nomination. Coffee County voters gave James 58.4% of the vote this week after voting him over 70% of the total vote in the first voting that selected the candidates for the runoff.

Fellow Auburn graduate George McMillan, a Birmingham lawyer and member of the Alabama Legislature, won the race for Lt. Governor. He earned his law degree in Virginia after first getting a BS degree at Auburn where his father was an employee of the extension service. McMillan defeated fellow State Senator Bert Bank in what was probably the closest of the statewide races. Both men worked hard for the election, neither dipped to the level of any of the other candidates to die up mud to sling at the opponent. McMillan also carried Coffee County and carried it with a 56% vote.

Coffee County voters also voted with a majority of Alabama voters on the two U. S. Senate races, supporting Don Stewart and Howell Heflin. Stewart overcame a large lead to defeat the widow of the late Jim Allen while Heflin withstood a strong bid by Representative Walter Flyer to win by a heavy margin. Heflin polled 70% of the vote in Coffee County while Stewart won by about 56% locally. Both face strong Republican opposition in November.

Mobile District Attorney Charles Graddick claimed the jailhouse door closed enough to lock up the Attorney General as well as the state. He polled over 70% of the Coffee County votes on his way to winning the nomination over State Senator Joe Fine who barely squeaked into a runoff by a few thousand votes.

over former Assistant Attorney General McPhillips. Don Siegelman had no trouble again leading the ticket to win the Secretary of State slot. He is the first man to hold the office in many years. He defeated Martha Adams who was making her second unsuccessful statewide race. Siegelman has been pegged as the man to watch in the future Alabama politics if he keeps his nose clean. He polled over 70% of the votes locally.

Annie Laurie Gunter came from behind to win the State Treasurer office in her own right by defeating Public Service Commissioner Peter Matthews.

Don Moore and Cecil Wyatt both won their bid to serve as a delegate to the National Democratic Party Conference from this District. Mrs. Moore had the hardest job because of Carol Keaser's name recognition in her bid to unseat Bill Dickinson two years ago. However, living all her life of state continues to cause Keaser trouble in Alabama politics.

The only local race pitted two good men against each other for the office of Tax Collector. The winner was Ronnie Burns, who led the ticket September 5. Burns tied Mildred Head with over 50% of the votes.
